An amendment by Representative Parker, democrat, Georgia, to eliminate the authority of the president to extend it for a third year was also defeated on a voice vote.

Chairman Jones, democrat, Texas, considered the Brown amendment as the "big hump" in the bill and with that behind him pressed for speedy action with a view to getting the bill to a final vote. However, he doubted whether that could be done until tomorrow.

City Has Raised Only Third of Quota for Bowdon Sufferers.

Only $70 was raised for the relief of storm sufferers at Bowden Thursday while Red Cross officials planned a disaster institute to begin this morning, and Miss Margaret Fetner, executive secretary of the Atlanta chapter, reported on the first-aid work done in 1933 by instructors

J. E. Stott, OWA safety director for Georgia, will distribute certificates today to 385 CWA workers who have received first-aid instruction by the Red Cross. Eleven instructors volunteered their services in teaching emergency treatment to the federal emergency treatment to the federal workers.

During 1933, Miss Fetner said, 44 lay instructors and four physicians volunteered to teach the Red Cross courses and approximately 250 persons were awarded first-aid certificates in addition to the CWA workers. Harold F. Enlow, of the national Red Cross, reported that more than 70,000 CWA workers will have been trained in emergency treatment before summer. The Atlanta chapter is now conducting two classes of first-aid for scoutmasters—one for negroes and the other for whites, it was said. Dr. C. W. Harwell and R. K. Babington are instructors.

Dr. C. W. Harwell and R. K. Babington are instructors.

W. Eugene Harrington, director of the storm relief fund here, deplored the lack of donations Thursday to the fund to aid the tornado victims at Bowden. Atlanta has raised only a third of its quota of $15,000, he said. Appeals to Atlantans to subscribe to the fund were made both by Red Cross officials and prominent businessmen.

Dr. Henry M. Baker, who is listed in "Who's Who," as an authority on disaster relief, will address the institute at 9 o'clock this morning at the Piedmont hotel on the work of the Red Cross and its relationship to public and private relief agencies. Red Cross workers from all over Georgia and from many other southern states will attend the sessions this morning and afternoon to learn of disaster relief work. Brigadier General James H. Reeves and Stone J. Crane, field representative of the Red Cross, will preside at the meeting.

W. A. Sirmon, adjutant of the Georgia department of the American Legion, Thursday sent messages to all post commanders in the state urging them to attend sessions of the disaster conference to be held here today.

TICKET SALE TODAY

FOR HINDUS LECTURE Tickets for the lecture by Maurice Hindus, the Russian author, will go on sale this morning at the Cable Piano Company. Mr. Hindus comes as the sixth number on the Alkahest Celebrity Series and because of a conflict at the Capitol theater this lecture will be given in Wesley Memorial auditorium beginning at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Season ticket holders will bring their tickets dated March 18 which will admit them to reserved seats for this lecture. On account of the large seating capacity of Wesley hall the price of tickets for this number will be reduced to 25 cents, 50 cents and 75 cents, according to the location occupied.

Mr. Hindus' subject will be "The Great Offensive," which is the title of his latest book that was adopted by the Book-of-the-Month Club and published last November upon his return from Russia.

Those who heard Mr. Hindus last March will look forward with a great deal of pleasure to his return engagement and will doubtless bring a number of their friends with them to hear him. Tickets for the lecture by Maurice

Paving of State's Main Highways Nearing Completion, Says Board

Die in Chair Today.

One of the biggest jobs will be completion of Route 9, from Atlanta through Dahlonega to the junction just south of Neel's Gap with Route 11 to Asheville and the east.

That project, the department reported, has been set up for complete in Glynn county to eliminate a number of grade crossings.

Talmadge today to two negroes sentenced to die in the electric chair at Milledgeville Friday.

Protracted hearings were held on the case of John Downer, Elberton negro sentenced to death for attacking a white girl in 1931, but the governor, after a private interview with the victim, announced himself satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt as to the negro's guilt.

The girl was brought here at the governor's request, with the young man who accompanied her the night of the alleged attack, and the route recently has been relocated in Glynn county to eliminate a number of grade crossings.

That project, the department reported, has been set up for completion as early as possible, with some hopes that a portion of it can be placed under contract in April. About 36 miles premain to be paved. The highway board planned to work first on the southern portion of the gaption called on Governor Talmadge and the highway board last winter to ask for pavement.

MELON GROWERS PLAN | State Deaths

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 15 .- (AP)

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 15.—(P)
Watermelon farmers of Georgia, North and South Carolina and Florida organized at a meeting here at the Hotel Savannah today to fight for cheaper railroad shipping rates on watermelons. A protest will be made to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.
L. M. Rhodes, Jacksonville, was elected permanent chairman of the group, and Roy Parrish, Adel, representative of the Souwega Watermelon Growers' Association, secretary.
The Georgia state committee included C. E. Sanders, Brooklet; L. E.
Holloway, Atlanta; C. G. Garner,
Athens, and Roy Parrish, Adel.
It was stated at the meeting that out of $200 gross receipts for a carload of watermelons, the railroad got $175 for freight charges, leaving the farmer only $25. Unless some adjustment could be made in the freight charges now prevailing farmers would have to stop planting watermelons for shipment, it was stated.

Mrs. Julia Mundy, 67, died at her home here Thursday at noon following an illness of several weeks. She was the widow of the late John M. Mundy, for many years clerk of the superior court of Clayton county. She was the mother of John Ellis Mundy, local attorney and former county representative in the legislature, and at present a member of the legal staff of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation in Atlanta.

WHAT do you want in your lowpriced truck?... Dodge thinks you want features that cut gas, oil and tire costs first of all. So Dodge gives them to you . . . gives them at considerable extra cost to Dodge, so they will save money for you.

Dodge doesn't ask you to believe mere claims . . . mere talk about economy and long life. Dodge does ask you to investigate and judge for yourself. Dodge says—"Compare values then make your decision on a basis of plain common sense facts." Dodgemakes it easy for you to do this.

No Other Low-Priced Truck Gives You All These

Costly Features! There are eighteen definite moneysaving features that Dodge offers you. They are positive quality features that you can recognize for yourself. You don't have to be an engineer to understand that 4 piston rings should be better-also cost Dodge more money - than 3. Or that 4 main bearings are better-cost Dodge morethan the usual 3. Valve seat inserts cost Dodge money, require special equipment to install—it's cheaper to leave them out-but they save gas, save valve grinding, save money for you. So Douge gives them to you along with: roller bearing universals, oil filter, hydraulic brakes, full pressure lubrication, crankcase ventilator - 18 positive, money-saving features

Go to your Dodge dealer. He will show you how to check the 18 Dodge money-saving features. How to compare Dodge with the three other lowest-priced trucks. Then you can judge for yourself which offers the most

Tasty Dishes of Other Lands Offer Interesting

Ideas for the American Housewife Food habits of other lands offer interesting suggestions to American housewives. Although cooking is a universal art, the food supply of each country, also national preferences and traditions, make certain dishes outstanding favorites in each land. Some of these find international favor, yet seem to retain the distinctive flavor of the country

Italy, for instance, has contributed ravioli to this culinary Congress of Nations. This is the way it is prepared in its own land:

Mr. Philp expressed especial satisfaction with the progress being made in the southwest. Employment increase and larger volume of business in other lines have been reflected in more automobile buying, he said.

Charles J. Haden, prominent Atlantan, Thursday returned from Valdosta, where, on Wednesday, as a guest of honor of the Rotary Club, he urged co-operation with the farm demonstration service and the 4-H Clubs to increase crops of food and feeds.

"This is the chance of a lifetime for Georgia farmers, with federal farm rent money to help them and their land lying idle because of acreage reductions, to feed themselves and have their barns and bins full," Mr. Haden said.

The Rotary Club of Valdosta voted an appropriation to equip the 4-H Clubs with marketing facilities and a new canning and curing plant with a view of teaching the elimination of waste on the farm, he reported.

HEINZ

In the early days of our country business was simple and neighborly—almost a family matter. Relations between the merchant and his customer were of a personal character. It was in those days that the old saying, "His word is as good as his bond" was born. It was in those days, too, that the Heinz business was born. And that is one reason why we continue to value so highly the intimate good will of our customers. We can never hope to know them all personally, because many of them live as far away as Tokio and Melbourne. But we try to deal with them just as honestly as though they were standing across the old-fashioned counter of other years.

HEINZ home-recipe SOUPS

-bought by thousands of women who have never before used "CANNED SOUPS"

You women who make good soup will approve and enjoy Heinz soups. Our purpose in making soups is to save you housewives the trouble. Our aim is to make soup so much like yours that they would take the place of yours perfectly.

So we make Heinz soups to home-recipes. Simple, old-fashioned recipes with no short-cut tricks, no factory magic about them. We are careful to select the best home-type ingredients. We cook them unhurriedly in small batches. When they are all finished (ready to heat and serve, with no measuring, no blending, no diluting for you to do)—then we test them and taste them, as you housewives would, to be sure of correct flavor and quality.

You see, we want Heinz soups to be your kind of soups. We want you to like them and to serve them often. But we don't want you to risk a cent finding out how good they are! Having tried them and found them good, we make this guarantee:

> If you don't find Heinz soup the best you ever tasted, return the label to your Grocer and he will refund the purchase price!

Our Forefathers Faltered Over OVEN-BAKED BEANS

ISTEN to some scandal about our straight-laced sires. They had a weakness, a grave, recurring weakness, for oven-baked beans! They could hardly wait for Saturday night supper. They would fret about the house all week long. They would hang around the kitchen on Saturday, getting in the way. They would sniff at the bean-pot in the oven. They would get a wild, wild look in their eyes.

That is how the trouble all began. Those old Colonial dames knew a bag of baked-bean tricks. And they used them.

They baked their beans slow and they baked their beans long. They baked them till they were munchy, and mealy, and sublime. They baked the moisture out of them and baked the rich sauce in. They baked them till our forefathers couldn't bear it any longer.

Then they watched our forefathers munch—and munch—and munch.

Now these beans, ladies, have the old sure-fire lure, if they're baked in the same old way. So we bake the Heinz Beans through and through in hot, dry ovens.

And the gentlemen still sniff and munch the way they used to do.

So hurry to your grocer's for a tin of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans. Heat them and serve them to your man.

And please do bear in mind that are really oven-baked

HEINZ TOMATO KETCHUP

(1) Get the tomatoes! Cross-breed seeds. Cultivate plants. Keep at it till you get tomatoes more luscious, more wholesome than ever before.

(2) Get them FRESH! Watch the tomatoes till they are at their red-ripe prime. Then pick them, rush them to the ketchup kitchens, sort, wash, scald and sieve them. Quick—a few brief hours from the growing plants set their lively goodness to sim-

(3) Get the spices! Get the finest spices there are, with the keenest, most enchanting flavors. Go round the world. Select them first hand. But get the best! (4) Blend them just so! . . . Enough, enough! The secret of this blending we will not bare. That is the deepest, darkest secret of this rare and wondrous sauce. Taste it!—and you will understand why we cherish the magic formula.

Well, that is how we make Heinz Tomato Ketchup. That is how we make it so utterly delightful that it has come to be

THE LARGEST SELLING KETCHUP IN THE WORLD!

AUGUST FLAVOR an out-of-season thrill Last August we immortalized the wonderful Heinz tomatoes! We picked the prize beauties from our pampered, pedigreed Heinz tomato plants. We washed them. Pressed them. Sieved the juice and sealed it up in tins and glass bottles. We did this all in a few hours, to trap and hold the fresh flavor and the full food value. Thus perpetuated, we offer

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON.

SELF-INTEREST WASHINGTON, March 15.—Scuttling of the St. Lawrence treaty was more of a personal blow to Mr. Roosevelt than is publicly known.

He lobbled ardently backstage for the treaty. Wayward democratic senators were called to the White House Strong arguments were used to make them see the error of their ways.

The president could not overcome the sectional self-interest of easterners. They would not consent to sidetracking their commerce to help the west and refused to change their votes. Politicians believe Mr. Roosevelt would have won the entire wheat belt over to the democratic standard for good if he had been able to put it over.

NEXT MOVE Feelers are expected to go out shortly from the White House to Canada looking toward negotiation of a new treaty.

Administration manipulators are confident they will have a beteter document to send to the senate next year for ratification. They are certain they will be able to put it over then.

They are merely singing in the rain. 13 short of the necessary two-thirds majority. The only reason they got as many as they did was that five democrats ducked the roll call, preferring to be absent rather than brave the presidential

Some very radical compromises will have to be made before Mr. Roosevelt will ever get any kind of St. Lawrence treaty through

CHEATING? Collegians running the AAA have been hearing a lot of inside tales lately about cheating against the acreage curtailment program. A squad of clerks in the census bureau has been designated to make a survey. Among other things, the census surveyors are checking the total of acreage curtailment in each county against the total crop acreage in that county.

They want to find out if it is true that the number of acres curtailed in some counties exceeded the total acres cultivated. Authorities believe cheating has not been widespread, because in each county the acreage to be reduced is based on a five-year average of the total under cultivation. The state committees can keep a fairly close account of the relationship.

DISBURSEMENTS No announcement has ever been made of total amounts paid the farmers in benefits by the federal government to date.

Up to March 8 it was $272,474,958.83. That does not include any loans, merely the outright payments, for cotton (rental and benefit payments); tobacco, wheat (acreage reduction and export benefits), hogs, and federal surplus relief corporation purchases of butter, cheese and hogs.

COMPROMISE It is now virtually certain that a good stock market regulation bill will come out of the

The federal reserve experts are writing the credit sections of the new bill. They know their business. The Young Anthony Advocates have joined with less liberal experts inside the administration to correct defects of the original measure.

The first humdinging bill of the Advocates has served a good political purpose. It paved the way for a strong regulatory measure.

EXPLANATION It was stated here recently that Cuba could not buy a dime's worth of American agricultural products. That is relatively true, but the foreign trade experts have hopes of building up the Cuban market to what it was in 1928 and 1929.

In 1929 Cuban imports of our meats amounted to $6,000,000; lard, $9,600,000; wheat flour, $7,990,000; potatoes, $1,100,000; milk and cream, $2,200,000. Her imports fell from a high of $202,000,000 in 1928 to $28,-

000,000 in 1932, not because the Cubans stopped eating but because they were too poor to buy anything. A boost in sugar prices is what Cuba needs to restore her normal appetite. (Copyright, 1934, oy Paul Mallon.)

No Castle Is Strong Enough To Survive Treason on the Inside

-By Robert Quillen-In many communities, women unrestrained by conscience, have in-repreted their new freedom as a right to do wrong. These matters are seldom mentioned in print; but they are known to everybody, and mothers and fathers are beginning to realize that something must be done to safeguard the future of their children. It is commonly believed that the reign of chastity ended during the Women learned to do man's work. And being independent of a

In towns where the social elect are the "drinking crowd," virtuous girls say: "A good girl hasn't a chance to interest a boy when some young married woman goes after him." In most cases that is true. But the explanation is not one that would please the young married woman's vanity. It isn't her superior or beauty that gives her the advantage. She wins because she has the attraction of forbidden fruit and because she will risk more than a decent girl can.

Her winnings are not great, however, for men of honor still refuse to defile another man's home, and those who do are moral bankrupts whom all decent men despise. It is no great accomplishment to throw garbage to swine.

- Fair Enough -

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

INCURABLE NEW YORK, March 15 .- One night when I was clattering about the state of Florida, doing living, breathing human documents about the pugilists and running horses, old Colonel Ed Bradley, the owner of the Big Store in Palm Beach, gave me fair warning that those roulette wheels of his, which were clicking away in his playroom, would grind the bones of anybody who tried to beat them. I thought it was very nice of the Old Colonel to tell me this and figured that he had done me a rather special favor until I mentioned the matter to Barry Shannon, his manager, who said: "Oh, the Colonel tells everybody that, but it doesn't make any difference. They keep on coming just the same and when their children grow up he tells them the same thing and they move right into the gears and get ground up, too. What did you do after the Colonel warned you?" Mr. Shannon inquired.
"Oh, I lost a little," I told Mr. Shannon, and he said: "See? It doesn't do any good."

doesn't do any good."

I was thinking of this when I went down to the New York Stock Exchange to see what I could see about the operation of the biggest store in the world and thinking how much franker, and, in a sort of way, squarer, the Old Colonel was than the broker who sets his trap in a high office building and grinds the margin speculator. So, wasn't I surprised, though, and spun around and around in confusion, when a big expert in the Big Store sat back in his chair and said suckers couldn't win playing the margin game down there, and, in round numbers, warned me that a sucker, if determined to have his fling, would save himself time and bother if he would just toss his money in over the transom and walk on by. It seemed very square of him to say this, because he knew I wasn't just nosing around to pick up private information but intended to go blab.

HURTS BUSINESS No, he said, the sucker type of trader stood no chance in the margin business and, though a look of pain o'erspread his features when I put in that a man ought to know something about the dice with which he shoots, that was what it came to, after all. Now, in a dice contest, a man should know what price to quote on the remote possibility that the dice will lie ten when they cease to bounce, and, in trading on margin, he likewise ought to study up on the stock in question and all the influences which might affect his stock, even though his research carry him way off into economics. And even then maybe he ought to put his savings back into his pocket, because it took character in addition to knowledge to see a man through winner.

Right there in the New York Stock Exchange a man talked that way and when I said that all this sounded as though he were chasing off business, he said that sort of business wasn't any good for the house, anyway. It tended to break people and when people go broke there is no profit in them, so the broker, doing business on commission, likes to see his customers keep winner and remain

The look of pain which occurred at my mention of the dice was due to a very nice distinction between speculation and gam-bling. The dictionaries and the courts have recognized a difference there and they set great store by it, although the motives of the individual sucker may be indistinguishable from those of the man leaning over a green table, with his collar loosened and his eyes popping out, uttering incantations to the animated dice blocks. In the stock exchange the sucker buys something. It may be a purchase in only the most technical sense, but it is a purchase just the same, whereas in Colonel Bradley's kind of sports all he gets is some gutta percha markers called chips. But these brokers, in their collective character as the stock exchange, find themselves unable to go into the sucker's motive when he asks them to buy him something. They may feel that he is acting unwisely and from undignified motives, but a broker is no pastor. Yes, character was important, too, in the makeup of a successful margin trader. He might have the intelligence to know when to let go, but his greed and his emotions might overrule his judgment and wipe him out nevertheless.

MAGNETIZED It is a well-known fact in the playroom trade that the doctor can't keep away from his own medicine, and boys who have spent a long evening on the far side of the table, spinning the wheel or what not, make a practice of frequenting other little playrooms after they have drawn their $20 a night and hung up their uniforms. Mostly they prefer faro because they realize that it gives them the best percentage obtainable, but when work is done and they draw their 20 dollar bills they rally around somewhere and send it in.

I didn't suppose that stock market experts would do anything as naive as that, they being so smart and all, but it turns out that many a dealer was playing his own game during the great American boom and that many and many a one was caught in and mashed when the roof fell in.

stocks on margin, they even tell of experts who lost their all or their almost all in such a stock as Kreuger & Toll. But the Colonel has been warning them off for years and still they keep a-coming, and I have a sort of doubt that when the citizens find themselves money-up once more, if they ever do, any power on earth will keep the sucker out of the stock market. Having found that it had a period of six and a half years, astronomers expected to see Biela's comet again in 1846. It did come in that year, but it his time it had split into two parts!

The parts were about 200,000 miles from each other, but were traveling along as comrades.

Great was the interest of astronomers as they waited for that comet in 1852. It came once more, but this time the parts were divided by a space of close to 1,500,000 miles.

In 1959 the comet was due again, but it failed to appear and has not been seen since. Scientists believe that it was broken up; and that heavy showers of meteors which strike the earth from time to time are broken bits of the comet.

Louis of last summer was announced tonight by the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

The Rockefeller discoveries go far toward, clarifying some of the most baffling things which in the past have hindered physicians in coping with these lethargic encephalitis outbreaks. They arise from the discovery, announced last November by the institute, of the virus which caused the St. Louis outbreak.

The new steps are described tonight in Science, the technical journal used by scientists to give their fellowworkers first information. The Rockefeller work was done by Leslie T. Webster and George L. Fite.

The vaccine is the virus which came originally from brains of St. Louis sleeping sickness victims. Whether it acts as a protective vaccine depends on the part of the body into which it is inoculated.

Placed in the noses or the brains of mice, it was fatal. A hundred-thousandth of a gram in the nose caused death, and a millionth of a gram in the brain was lethal.

But when this same virus was used as a vaccine injected under the skin it gave remarkable protection. Skin Injectious, ranging as small as one-hundred to one-millionth of a gram of the using of virus, protected the nice against a million doses of the virus in the brain, and against a thousand of them in definition doses of the virus in the brain, and against a thousand of them in the nose.

The report observes that mice are million doses of the virus in the brain, and against a thousand of them in the nose.

The report observes that mice are million doses of the virus in the brain, and against a thousand of them in the nose.

The report observes that mice are highly susceptible to this disease and says "this induced active immunity lass persisted for three veeks and doubless endures much longer."

Further experiments prove that the virus which caused the St. Louis seleping sickness patients.

Reece testified that Lynch suggested to him August 25, 1932, that he divert funds from the unadjusted back tax account of the insurance department to McAlister's election campaign, under a promise of repayment later, that an "agreement" was reached at a conference in Bachman's home an dthat Davis, Louthan and Alexander, as members of the governor's "campaign finance committee," concurred in it.

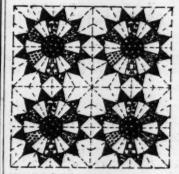

As a result, the defendant related, he diverted $22,000 and was short this amount, when Governor McAlister displaced him as commissioner. But he declared the "agreement" remained in force and that in pursuance of it his successor, Joseph T. Tobin, delivered to him $90,000 of bonds to sell, enough of the proceeds to be retained to pay off the deficit. Tobin emphatically denied any connection with the matter.

Reece told of arranging with his brother, Lem, to market $73,000 of bonds and of depositing $22,000 of the proceeds in a Washington lockbox, where the money was seized upon his arrest February 11, 1933.

Hold Prayer Program.

The F. Catharine Bryan Sunbeam Band of the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church met Sunday with a special program of prayer for Baptist work in the south.

Robert Donegan presided, owing to the illness of C. W. Read III, president. The devotional period was conducted by Robert Donegan, with Helen Meister, Stanford Donegan, Goodwyn Cates, Patsy Ruth Campbell, Willa Bland and Edith Willingham reciting scriptural passages.

Joe Shippen, Sue Thompson. Nell Floyd, David Gambrell, William Thompson, Tom T. Jones Jr. and Shirley Coppedge displayed colored paper cutouts of the seven different phases of home mission work in the south. Harriet Floyd read a story of a Baptist church in Cuba that had been destroyed in a storm, the story, entitled "What the Great Wind Blew Down, Sunbeams Built Up." Mrs. E. G. Eaton, assistant leader. directed the marking of the honor rolls up to date. A special thank offering was taken to be applied toward the work of the Home Mission Board.

An Easter party has been planned for the Sunbeams on March 23 at 3

Varied and Interesting Exhibit

Displayed for Art Convention

By Annie Lou Hardy.

Outstanding among the attractive exhibits on display for the Southeastern Art Association convention which opened yesterday at the Ansley hotel is that arranged by the Vesper George School of Art, of Boston, Mass. The exhibit is under the capable direction of Miss Dorothy Hills George, charming exponent and executive director of the school, who is quite an artist in her own right.

So varied and extensive are the courses offered by the school that an exhibit representing all departments must of necessity prove interesting and entertaining. There are water color sketches, paintings in oil, pen and ink drawings, colorful posters in bold and daring strokes, costume designs, theatrical and costume masks, drawings, theatrical and costume masks, drawings for stained and leaded glass, murals and architectural drawings, theatrical and costume masks, drawings, theatrical and costume masks, drawings, the school has increased its enrollment from 10 to 300 students, thus testifying to the success of the methods used by the director.

"Costume designing has, perhaps, the greatest appeal for the feminine though to the success of the setudents," said Miss George, with architectural drawings, and create beautiful clothes for herself, her family, and her friends. This knowledge has stood her in good stead during the power to design and create beautiful clothes for herself, her family, and her friends. This knowledge has stood her in good stead during the stress of recent times, for the feminine universe is founded, to a large extent, on personal adornment." For illustration Miss George pointed out a series of sketches, demonstrating the fascinating art, which were done by the students of the school. Many, were evolved from interesting research, as, for example, a lovely gown developed from a European peasant costume. Another series of original

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

I have been going to see a girl for three months and we have thought a great deal of each other. I have been allowed a few privileges without receiving any remonstrance from her and I suppose I began to take things too much for granted. At any rate, I went too far and she was shocked. She demanded that I take her home at once, which I did. Before she left me she said that she forgave me and would be glad to consider me a friend but that she would never have another date with me. I honor the girl for her stand and I want another chance to prove to her that I will never offend her again. Don't you think she should give me the opportunity to show her how deeply I care for her?

C. O. B.

ANSWER:

The well-bred girl is taught from earliest youth that a man's real affection for her is not expressed in the laying on of hands. She is taught that any attempt he makes to manhandle her is indication that he discounts her and hasn't the proper respect for her. In the first stages of her association with a man she keeps her guard up but when she becomes interested in him and begins to fall in love with him she always imagines the interest is mutual and so unconsciously she ANSWER: she always imagines the interest is mutual and so unconsciously she lets down her guard. She believes implicitly that she is safe from any unfair attack on his part. If he transgresses and tries to take advantage of her she feels both defeated and humiliated. She reproaches herself for having let down her guard. She is now convinced that what she took to be true affection for her is something entirely different. In this frame of mind her one thought is to get off by herself and nurse her disappointment, just as a dog with an injured paw crawls off into the corner to lick his wound.

when her shocked sensibilities have recovered from the blow you administered. In the meantime, there are several things you can do to put yourself in a better light before her. You can write her a letter, tell her that she was right and you wrong. You can tell her that you respect her reserve and understand her indignation with you for trespassing upon it. If you can afford to buy flowers from the florist, send them along at the same time and they will heighten the effect of your apology. She cut you off because she thought (and rightly) that you lacked the proper regard for her; once you have convinced her that you do not she will be eager to reinstate you.

Would that all the young girls in

Would that all the young girls in a similar situation could read your letter and understand that the way to win a man's affection and his respect is to be reserved.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Bobby's Return to Golf Wars Stirs Nation's Interest

Three and a half years have passed since Bobby Jones has lifted a club in behalf of anything other than pleasures of the inexorable turn of the movie camera.

And next Thursday, at Augusta, he returns to competition. It is the Masters' tournament, so-called because the field has been selected from the masters of golf.

(Come to think of it, it isn't such a good name at that. There aren't any masters of golf. But the fellows they have named come as close to that classification as is humanly pos-

The tournament is attracting more interest than we imagine. Atlanta has remained unusually calm about it. The city has, I imagine, had more golfing emotions than any other city.

It saw Bobby Jones return time after time with the captives of conquered worlds figuratively groaning at his chariot wheels. Twice the city packed the downtown canyons of steel and stone to give him welcome and cheer his name.

And so the Masters' tournament, probably the greatest golf tournament of the year, and perhaps for all time, is being taken rather calmly in Atlanta. But on my desk is a letter from a golf writer of an Oklahoma paper. And the news services and papers of the east and west are sending their men down for the tournament. The Associated Press, for instance, is to have a radio telephone packed onto the back of Mr. Dillon Graham, the southern sports editor. He will trudge with Jones, step by step, and talk into it of the shots and the foibles, if any, of Jones. His words will go back to the press tent from which the wires will carry the news out to the waiting world.

Quite a tournament, I'd say. And once more it will be Jones against the field. The betting is 8 to 1 against Jones.

And that is a most amazing story in itself. The odds will probably shorten. They are sure to if Jones hews another 69 or so out of the Augusta National course in the practice

But even so, at 8 to 1 against it is an amazing story. There will be some 70 of the nation's best golfers in competition and the odds are just 8 to 1.

Once or twice Jones went into national tournaments with the odds at even money that he would beat the field. It is incredulous. But it happened.

KY LAFFOON LEADS.

Ky Laffoon, the Denver Typhoon who won the Atlanta Metropolitan open, is leading the field at Charleston after the first day's play. He fired a 68 over the Wappoo course to lead Harry Cooper and Craig Wood, each with a 69.

He now faces the task of putting together three more rounds of about 72. That should win another tournament for

And that is the difficult task in medal play. There are many great rounds in the sixties. But the winner is always some fellow who has knitted together four rounds of par figures.

Consistency is a jewel. But nowhere is it more worth while

The Charleston tournament will send the professionals into Augusta. Each with the fond hope of beating Bobby Jones.

The fellow who beats Jones, if there is to be such a one, will have a rather rich summer ahead of him in the exhibi-

ABBOTT INSPIRES BARD.

Well, Pals, this fellow who is to manage the Crackers for the 1934 season is unique in one respect. A long epic poem, chanting the praises of Abbott, has been received from the Portland, Ore., fans. Cracker managers have inspired Bronx cheers, hisses and despair. But Abbott is the first to inspire

He is a peculiar fellow. He goes into the job here, which has seen so many failures, with utmost confidence in himself. "I've gone into places where the outlook was darker than it is here," he told me on the eve of his departure for Macon. "And I've come out on top. Guess it's a lucky star or something." The very idea that Spencer Abbott has seen darker situtions than the Atlanta one stamps him as unique. Please let me get down on record as being "The Original Abbott Man." I am for him to the last syl-

And I envy the baseball writers who are to spend two weeks in Macon. It's such a swell little city with so many good fellows in it.

MAE WEST'S INFLUENCE SLACKS.

Mae West's influence, so the reducing class people tell me, has not really reached Atlanta. The desire to reduce is still on an upward trend. The reason for this is, thinks one of the teachers, that people have found it is so much more comfortable not to be too fat.

The reducing people, of course, are torn between two classes. There are the thin people who would like very much to have Miss West's curves. And the fat ones who want to get rid of them. They have to be a pretty crafty lot, but they get away with it rather well. They are working their pupils (the fat ones) rather hard.

The old idea was to encourage a bit of diet and light exercise and depend on long waits in the cabinet and steam baths to reduce them. This doesn't go so well any more. The modern reducer has found that the weight lost in the steam and cabinet water have been drunk.

The greatest trouble, according to most of the weight reducing instructors, is that women, as a class, are such terrible liars.

"They will lose two pounds and feel so encouraged they will eat two pounds of candy," said one fierce young lady. "And when they come back and find they've gained, they blame it on the instructor. And what's more, they will not admit having eaten candy, bread or potatoes. Yes, sir, if some of these husbands knew how their wives would lie—well, it's terrible, that's all."

The greatest trouble, according to most of the weight the men's and women's leagues.

Hill and Jordan put the J. P. Allen Company team, of the Southern Bowling league, in the running for first place Thursday evening as they turned in big totals. Lyon, of the Ponce de Leon Laundry, was high for his quintet and is bringing his average up around the 100 mark in rapid order.

Dwight Horton, captain of the J. P. Allen team, was absent from the lineup of his team Thursday due to illness.

Winner of Atlanta Open Leads by One Stroke Over Strong Field.

By Dillon Graham,

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 15.

(P)—Ky Laffoon, young Denver pro, who won the Atlanta Metropolitan open Sunday with a great finishing round, came through with a fine 68 today as the opening salvo in his bid for the Charleston Tournament of Gardens golf championship.

The 24-year-old westerner came to the last green late in the afternoon after a pair of veteran pros, Harry Cooper, of Chicago, and Craig Wood, of Deal, N. J., had posted earlier 69's. A drive into the rough off the eighteenth tee cost Laffoon a stroke and kept him from scoring even lower. His card had par beaten by three strokes.

A group of nine pros, including Abe Espinosa, Chicago; Al Watrous, Birmingham, Mich.; Wiffy Cox, Blooklyn, and Willie MacFarlane, Tuckahoe, N. Y., were tied at even par 71.

George Christ, Rochester (N. Y.) pro, who holed out an explosion shot from a trap off the 11th hole; Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y.; Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., and Frank Walsh, Chicago, had 72's.

With a warm sun and little of the usual stiff cross winds beating across the course, the pros found the day ideal and no less than 44 players had 75's or better. The second 18 holes of play in quest of the $700 first prize comes tomorrow.

Down the Alleys

After an exciting play-off that in-volved three teams, the First National Bank Duckpin league swings back into action tonight at Blick's in what should be a most exciting second half.

T. L. Cerniglia, president of the league, states that more excitement prevails this season than in any previous year, and this is noted in both the men's and women's leagues.

MAX BAER.

If present plans go through, Max Baer, California heavyweight, will meet Prime Carnera, the giant Italian, who holds the world's heavyweight championship, in a title fight in New York on June 14. Agreement was reached by the Garden and rep-resentatives of the two fighters at a conference in New York Thursday. No papers have been signed. (Story on third sports page.)

REDS BOMBARD GIANT HURLERS AND WIN, 13 TO 7

Lombardi and Comorosky Lead Attack; Champs Lead Early.

TAMPA, Fla., March 15.—(R)—
The Cincinnati Reds, playing their first game of the season, spotted the New York Giants four runs in the first inning today and then came from behind to slug out a 13-to-7 decision before a crowd of 3,000.

Adam Comorosky, former Pittsburgh outfielder, and Ernie Lombardi led the Reds' 17-hit attack off Joe Bowman, Hal Schumacher and Clydell Castleman. Comorosky collected four singles while Lombardi pounded out two triples and a pair of singles.

The three most advanced pitchers, Bob Weiland, Rube Walberg and Dusty Rhodes, were ordered to share the hurling burden with Rick Ferrell and Gordon Hinkle backstopping. The starting infield will have Eddie Morgan on first, Max Bishop, second; Bill Cissel, shortstop, and Buck Walters on third, and the outfield will be cared for by Roy Johnson, in left; Julius Solters, in center, and Dusty Cooke, in the sunfield.

Harris announced that he disliked regulars-vannigans practice games and

BALL GONE.

A golf ball swings high over the East Lake course.

And L. F. Meng is the loser.

Meng hooked a drive from the No. 10 tee on the new course and the ball lodged in the fork of a limb in one of the tallest trees that borders the fairway. Several rocks thrown at the ball failed to dislodge it and it hangs as a souvenir overlooking the fairway.

Meng was playing with P. G. Lombard, E. E. Lyon and T. A. Martin.

It was the first golf ball to lodge in a tree on the new East Lake course.

New Cracker in Action

Artie Jacobs, new Cracker southpaw from the Coast league, was one of the early arrivals in the Macon camp. Jacobs, a screwball pitcher, has been a crack performer for Portland the last three seasons, winning 17 games last year and 21 the year before. He was purchased by Atlanta during the winter and Manager Abbott is counting on him to be his ace relief pitcher. Jacobs is very cool under fire and saved many games for Portland. He is a believer in hard work and getting an early start. He signed his contract yesterday and is shown loosening up in the morning practice at Luther Williams field. Photo by Metro.

John Blick, who is paired with George McKay, thinks French and Dennis have the best chance. "They both have handicaps," Blick said, "and right now they are bowling at top form. I pick them to win."

Both have been putting in extrapractice in preparation for the event. And when McKay and Blick both are "right" at the same time, there is no team in the city capable of beating them.

Spencer and Business Manager Earl Mann, of the Crackers, are delighted with the weather which greeted them "I'm completely convinced that it is as good a brand of weather as any of the big league clubs are getting in Florida," Mann stated. Florida," Mann stated. In addition to the ideal weather, the Cracker chieftains found the Macon grounds and clubhouse in perfect shape when they arrived here. The city saw to that, having had a squad of workmen getting the field in condition for several weeks.

Manager Abbott, an old, experienced head at managing, doesn't believe in rushing the players too much in the early days of work. They're taking it fairly slowly until they get in shape. Abbott does not fear any sore arms as the weather is ideal.

The bal. .ce of the squad will be here March 22 and it will be the second week of practice before any of the players are allowed to cat loose.

The squad was augmented this morning by the arrival of a young catcher, Johnny Abbott—no relation to Spencer—from Lithonia, Ga.

Baseball has a peculiar way

Baseball has a peculiar way of as-sociating nicknames.
For example, all players with the last name of Rhodes are called "Dusty;" all the Hales are immediately labelled Sammy and the Moores, either "Cy" or "Scrappy," so it seems.
Today's piece deals with oue of the Moore boys in baseball. And there are more players named Moore in the big leagues today than ever before.
This one happened to be William Austin Moore, of Elberton, Ga., Elbert county's granite city. He is a pitcher with the Phillies and his nickname, of course, is "Cy."
We are indebted to two of Elberton's citizens, Clark Edwards Jr., ordinary of Elbert county, and J. S. Asbury, of the Standard Oil Company, for suggesting the Elberton boy for this series. Austin Moore is Elbert county's only representative in the big this series. Austin Moore is Elbert county's only representative in the big leagues and naturally the good people of Elberton and the county are quite proud of him.

Moore, although a young chap in his early twenties, is about to start his sixth season as a National league pitcher, this being his second with the Phillies, now in training at Winter Haven, Fla. He was at Brooklyn for four years, or the better part of four years, where he pitched three seasons under Wilbert Robinson and one under Max Carey.

sons under Wilbert Robinson and one under Max Carey.

Moore, a right-hander and a well proportioned one, is rated one of the best pitchers on the Phillies' stuff. The husky Georgia has one of the best fast balls in the major leagues, incidentally. No less an authority than Nap Rucker, who picked him up for Brooklyn in 1929, is authority for that statement. And Nap has seen some pretty good fast balls in his time, including that of Dazzy Vance when Dazzy was fast. Nap Rucker, himself, had a great fast ball when he was pitching in the National league.

NEEDS CURVE.

"All that Cy Moore needs to make him a great pitcher is a good curve ball." Nap Rucker, always his booster, says of him. And Wilbert Robinson, who spent much time coaching the who spent much time coaching the young Georgian at Brooklyn, heartily agrees with him. Moore is a hard worker, however, waivers on him. The Pittsburgh and Cincinnati clubs also had their eyes on him, but Brooklyn fooled them by holding on to Moore for four years.

Moore is a hard worker, however, and chances are, he will acquire the curve ball. His speed is very baffing in itself. In one game against the hard-hitting Chicago Cubs, he struck out 10 men. That was last year while pitching for the Phillies. Back when he was the relief pitcher for Brooklyn, he did some good work in that role, saving several important games for the Robins during the season of 1930 when Uncle Wibert Robinson's team almost won the National league pennant in a hot three-conrear race with St. Louis and Chicago.

In a game against the Cubs that year, Moore relieved Dazzy Vance with the bases full and struck out Rogers Hornsby and Kiki Cuyler in succession. Hornsby, then managing the Cubs, was furious and avowed that the next time he faced Austin Moore, he would hit his fast ball clear out of the lot. The Rajsh eventually made good his promise, but not until Moore had bumliated him a second time by striking him out before a big crowd.

Moore's fast one has a deceptive dip to it and if the young man could only develop the curve that Nap Rucker talks about and the change of pace, chances are he would attain stardom overnight.

PLEASED McGRAW.

The late John McGraw, while managing the Giants, took a fancy to Moore's speed and size and planned to claim him if Brooklyn should ask waivers on him. The Pittsburgh and Cincinnatic clubs also had their eyes on him, but Brooklyn fooled them by halding at the Moore for four years and the changes, and a speed and defensive skill will be watching that club with a discovered for four years and the changes, and planned to claim him if Brooklyn should ask waivers on him. To get back to Mr. Carr, however, It inspires a feeling of great confidence in the survey to meet a man of his caliber. He is short, but believe me, he is packed with trinitro toluene and cordite and primed with dynamite. If the rodents and profise tors that make themselves that a not of this sort was on their trails, I believe that we'd see a wholesale migration of vermin to the oceans, as the lemnings make tracks in the pol regions. They would get out with all speed.

Somebody wrote to me protesting against my statement that cats she that make themselves that the protect the birds in rural sections. The letter was anonymous and I do not know who the individual is. I am not anxious to know. The facts of the matter indicate that the person is more concerned with the well-being of a group of animals in the world today so absolutely necessary to the life of mankind as the birds. Without birds, we would face absolute starvation in less than one year. We would be reduced to cannibalism in eight months, for all inhibitions and refinements, and all the vener of civilization disappear in the face of the stern reality of starvation. And because I want to protect these most valuable birds from mangy stray cats, I am called a barbarian. Acti.

If the correspondent who wrote that letter reads this, I want him to time of the other side of the picture. In your kindness to animals have you never given to disappear in the face of the stern reality of starvation. And because I want to protect on Choose the more desirnate of the other side of the picture. In your kindness to animals have you never given the first of the picture. In your kindness to animals have you never given the profit of the picture. In your kindness to animals have you never given the profit of the picture. In WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 15.—(4P)—The folks who have the idea the Phillies sold their ball club when, to save the financial ship from sinking by the stern, they let the great Chuck Klein go to the Chicago Cubs for the equivalent of $125,000, may be compelled to alter the notion this season.

"Circumstances forced us to sell Klein, much as we hated to do it from the playing standpoint," frankly says Gerry Nugent, the club president, "but it's worth noting, great as Klein was, that his hitting could not stop the Phillies from dropping out of fourth place to seventh last year.

out of fourth place to seventh last year.

"Poor pitching cost us a chance to figure in the 1933 pennant race and the compelling reason behind our other big trade, which sent Virgil Davis to St. Louis for Jimmy Wilson, is the fact that in Wilson, as our new manager and chief backstop, we have the man best equipped to improve our burling. To my mind, Jimmy is the smartest catcher in baseball and a natural leader."

HIS BIG CHANCE.

Wilson wasn't around when his boss made these complimentary remarks but he said later: "This is the chance I have been waiting for. I'm

AUSTIN MOORE

Finally he was used in the trade with the Phillies.

Austin Moore, it may be stated, is an ex-protege of Uncle Wilbur Good, former Cracker outfielder and manager. Moore had pitched very little, mostly for Elberton High school and in a small Florida league when he joined Good's Macon Peaches of the Sally league in 1928.

Good had the veteran left-hander, Dick Niehaus, a very crafty pitcher on his staff at the time, and he turned Moore over to Dick for private coaching. Dick taught him a lot about pitching. And the next year, afer winning 13 games in a hurry, Brooklyn took him up.

Another interesting fact uncovered abovt Austin Moore is that, like Marvin Duke, Buck Newsom and other pitchers now starring in professional ball, he attended Georgia Tech for a short time. Moore was there for a year and had ambitions of becoming a helluva engineer. He played the summer of 1925 at Marietta, Ga., on a team with Doug Wykoff, Bos a helluva engineer. With Wilson behind the bat, the peppery Dick Bartell at short and Chick Fullis in center field, the Phillies have plenty of strength "down the middle alley," where it counts the most. Bartell is another of the players who could have been sold for a fancy price. Don Hurst, the slugging first baseman, and Wes Schulmerich, who went on a base-hit rampage after coming from Boston last season, will be given the cleanup jobs in the batting order.

VERTICAL POSITION OF LEGS
AFFORDS SEST GODY ACTION
AND BALANCE

Alex Morrison says:

If the average player knew now ar away from a vertical position his egs are as he swings he'd understand why he can't enjoy the proper body action and balance. During the backswing, the right leg, instead of being in an almost vertical position, invariably slants away from the ball or toward the player's left. This prevents him from taking the club back in the proper groove. Also puts him in a decidedly uncomfortable position. In the downswing, the left leg, instead of enjoying the steadiness! back in the proper groove. Also puts him in a decidedly uncomfortable position. In the downswing, the left leg, instead of enjoying the steadiness of a vertical position, slants back from the ball, giving the player a wobbly foundation and causing him to swing from the ofitside in. Most of the alayer's troubles are traceable to railty leg positions and movements.

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex., March 15.—(A) — Aloching, three-year-old from the stable of W. A. Muir, proved the best of a band of high-class platers to win the featured race on the Agua Caliente Jockey Club program today. The gelding got up under hard urging to win by a nose from Wichita City. Iohn Bane got the show. The winner ran the seven furlongs in 1:25, one second off the track record, and paid $11.20 in the mutuel wagering.

Baer already had established him-self as a formidable contender by scoring a technical knockout over Max Schmeling, of Germany, former heavyweight champion, on June 8,

He was the only man given an even chance to bring the crown back to America—because of his size, rugged mess, stamina and punching power.
Meanwhile Carnera met and defeated old Paulino Uzcudun at Rome and little Tommy Loughran at Miami. Both

THE GOLFER SPEAKS.

(With Apologies to Ben King).

If I should die tonight, And as with folded arms in death I lay Some beaten rivel whom I'd put to flight Should bend above my resting corpse and say:
"Old boy, you won by greater skill and pluck,
You had me trimmed from putting green to tee,
You had the stuff but I had all the luck, I should have been six down instead of three."

Although my soul was even then a spook I'd rise at once in my large, white cravat To get one look at him—one final look, I'd make him say it over word for word Till I was sure that I had rightly heard; Yes, I'd rise up within my shoud, and then-I'd drop back dead again.

THE DIVIDEND PAYER.

The ancient sport of wrestling has come in for its full share of harpooning, prodding and unkind looks, but it still carries one important

It comes close to being the best all around dividend payer in profes-

Having a hunch along this line, I came upon surer figures lately while crossing the ample state of Texas with Paul Jones, known as "the Texas Ranger," a 220-pound wrestling heavyweight who covers some 40,000 miles a year as he crowds an average of three matches a week under his belt.

"Who is the big money maker in sport today?" he asked. Carnera, the heavyweight champion. Not Babe Ruth. Not Bill Tilden. His name is Jim Londos. Londos gets twenty-five per cent of the gate. I saw recently where he worked before one gate of $28,000 and another of $19,000. And Londos often wrestles five times a week. Londos, Browning and several others run into big money in the course of a year—far more money than any other sporting professionals ever see.

"You know about the $10,000,000
total Jack Dempsey drew for Tex Rickard. This was supposed to be a record in sport. But I'll gamble that Strangler Lewis, in his 4,500 matches, has worked before $15,000.

000 worth of each in his time and before gether. 000 worth of cash in his time and he is still around. Those 4,500 matches give the answer. Lewis has been in more wrestling matches than Ty Cobb's list of ball games shows after 24 years."

"How about your own case?" I

"How about your own case?" I asked.

"I've never been a champion," Jones said, "but I've wrestled five or six champions and I've been going for about 12 years. I can average around $2,500 a month, or $30,000 a year, but I have to work from three to five times a week over a lot of country. Last week I worked five times from Knoxville to Los Angeles. On one occasion I had to drive from Knoxville to Houston, 1,200 miles, in 24 hours to fill a date—all day and all night. I've had to drive from a thousand to twelve hundred miles more than once in 24 hours or less to get there on time—top speed and little rest.
"And I'm not the only one taking these long jumps every other day or these long jumps every other day or

On the Paying Side.

No wonder so many collegians, especially ex-football players, go in for the wrestling game. It may be kidded and looked upon with dark and smouldering suspicion, but it pays the The Prudential Insurance Company of America Organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in persuance to the laws of said State.

In this list are Savoldi, of No-tre Dame: McMillen, of Illinois; George, of Michigan; Sonnenberg, of Dartmouth; Nagurski, of Minnesota, and a flock of others who have been knocking over from $30,000 to $70,-O00 a year, or even more.

A good professional football player won't average over $3,500 a season. The headliners won't beat $10,000. In baseball $5,000 a year $10,000. In baseball $5,000 a year is now fair pay for the average big leaguer, and not so many pass $10, 000 or $15,000. But wrestlers you've barely heard about can dig up from $20,000 to $30,000 a year and keep this up for 10, 15 or 20 years.

Strangler Lewis is now 10 years older than Dempsey, the Strangler being a middle-aged, fat man with a stomach that would block the scissors coil of a jungle python. He was cleaning up more than 20 years ago, but he is still collecting here, there and other places upknown to metropolitan other places unknown to metropolitan

As a guess I'd say that Jim Londos today has more money set aside than any other man in professional sport, and he is still the biggest money maker in any sporting trade, with plenty of time left.

"We keep in shape," Jones 'the ranger,' said, "because we keep working—not only week after week, but year after year. How can a fighter or a boxer, who works once or twice or maybe four times a year, keep im-proving? Wrestlers last because they proving? Wrestlers last because they keep working, not because they keep resting. And in proportion they collect a big percentage of the sporting pay over fighters, ball players, football players or what you will."

The fact that Jones considered crossing the state of Texas as a mere hop, step and jump at least convinced me that wrestlers do their share of

TEST TONIGHT

Happy John Bollas, Birmingham impressario of light-heavyweights, stages his sixth show at the Atlanta auditorium tonight when Al (Badman) Stecher tackles Leo Alexander, the South Bend wrestling instructor, in the main match.

It is a no-time-limit event.

A strong supporting card of pre-liminaries has been arranged, not to mention a snappy semi-final featuring Stanley Buresh vs. Gus Pappas.

The show, under auspices of the American Legion, starts at 8:30.

Track Owner's Colt Ready To Start Intensive Training.

By Thomas H. Noone,

United Press Racing Editor. United Press Racing Editor.

NEW YORK, March 15.—(UP)—
Peace Chance, lone candidate of Joseph E. Widener who is the guiding light of the Miami Jockey Club and the Westchester Racing Association, has arrived at Churchhill Downs and is being pointed for the gruelling mile and a quarter test of the $30,000 added classic, May 5.

Peace Chance, after spending the winter at Widener's Elmendorf farm, is sound of body and limb and ready to start intensive training for his derby engagement as soon as weather and track conditions permit. The colt has been galloping for two months and is thoroughly legged up, Pete Coyne, his trainer, reports.

is thoroughly legged up, Pete Coyne, his trainer, reports.

The Chance Shot colt was not extensively campaigned in 1933. He made only seven trips to the races of which he won two overnight events and placed three times.

Peace Chance made his debut against stiff opposition in the Saratoga special sweepstakes on August 12. In this six-furlong affair he finished out of the money, beaten off by Wise Daughter, Singing Wood and Hadagal.

Unless Your Easter Suit

Is A Hickey-Freeman Travlwear!

Years ago, Hickey-Freeman started out to find the best-looking, longest-wearing fabric in the world ... and after a long search, they found it! It was woven of special, rare wools—the fleece of the famous Blackface sheep. A tougher, sturdier, longer-wearing wool fibre isn't known! But even then, they weren't satisfied. Hickey-Freeman had the weaver take this vam-double it-and then twist it together before weaving! The resultant fabric is Traviwear - a beautiful suiting that wears, and wears, and wears. You can take a pencil and jab it right through the cloth - make a big hole in it - only to have the hole disappear completely when you give the

By JOHN L. COOLEY. NEW YORK, March 15 .- (A)-Weakness of silver stocks spread to other sections of the market today and the closing averaged more than a point

Trading was very dull until the last hour when speculative holdings of some mining issues were unloaded following the break in silver prices which had obviously been prompted by Secretary Morgenthau's expressed opposition to further change in the government's silver policy. White metal futures dipped nearly 2 cents at one time and spot was off almost a cent. Far eastern currencies also

Bonds Firm.

Bonds had a firm tone, their composite edging to another new high for the year, but dealings in them were quieter. Wheat was off while cotton made little change on the day.

Those who had expected that "something" more was to be done for silver at this time were apparently disappointed by the treasury secretary's remarks. U. S. Smelting dropped nearly 9 points, and American Smelting, International Silver and Cerro de Pasco were off around 2 each. For a quarter of an hour selling was energetic throughout the list, but most leaders succeeded in reducing their extreme losses before closing time.

The labor situation in the automobile industry received prominence and bile industry received prominence and motor shares softened, though indus-trials generally felt rather depressed. Losses Recorded.

Net losses of about a point were recorded by U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, Kennecott, du Pont, Montgomery Ward and Bethlehem Steel. Rails were less aggressive than of late, though their decline was mostly moderate; Santa Fe yielded nearly 2 points. Isolated firm spots were provided by Schenely Distillers, which rose 2 on rumors of favorable earnings, and National Biscuit whose directors maintained the dividend rate.

rectors maintained the dividend rate. Transfers totaled 1,355,780 shares.

The mid-March turnover in the money market was the smallest in some time, mostly because the treasury's financing was lighter than usual, involving redemption of only $460,000,000 in maturing certificates. Income tax collections, expected to be tax collections, expected to b higher than a year ago, constituted

BIG INCREASE SHOWN IN ORANGE SHIPMENTS

LOS ANGELES, March 15 .- (A)-A 700-car increase last week in orange shipments from California and Florida, was reported Wednesday by T. H. Powell, general sales manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. The shipments were 2.694 cars.

Powell said prices also are on the rowell said prices also are on the up-grade on oranges from both states. The total orange shipped to date from both states this year is 45,101 cars compared with a five-year average of 44,935 cars.

LOANS TO BROKERS INCREASE IN WEEK

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(R)—Loans to brokers and dealers held by weekly reporting New York city member banks amounted to $923,000,000 during the week ended March 14, the federal reserve board reported today, representing an increase of $79,000,000 for the week.

market.

DOBBS & CO.—There is not much change in the general outlook and Thursday's weakness probable has no more significance than Tuesday's strength.

LIVINGSTON & CO.—We doubt very much that there will be a general decline to new lows without some very strong incentive in new developments.

FENNER & BEANE-Trading sentiment ppears to be changing but we doubt if ices will change much pending action on a Bankhead bill.

By BERNARD S. O'HARA. NEW YORK, March 15 .- (P)-The curb market finished at a slightly lower level today under mild selling. Recessions were generally limited to fractions to around a point. Alcohols were mixed and oils and metals just a trifle easy. Among Electric and American Light & Traction each lost more than a point, and Electric Bond & Share was off a frac-Electric Bond & Share was off a fraction. A brief selling flurry occurred around the start of the final hour, but otherwise trading was dull.

Novadel Agene moved against the trend for a 2-point rise and Hiram Walker and Dow Chemical ended a little higher. Swift & Company and Aluminum Company of America were a shade easier, while declines of a shade easier, while declines of around a point occurred in Waco Air-craft, Schiff Company and Bliss Cor-poration. General Tire & Rubber dropped 3. Transfers which approximated 284,-000 were about the same as Wednes.

32 Butler Bros (C-Ike K. Hay, prominent young Covington lawyer who served as executive secretary to Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., Thursday was given the oath of office of assistant to United States District Attorney Lawrence S. Camp. The oath was administered by John Dean Steward, clerk of the federal district court of north Georgia.

Mr. Hay, who will handle land condemnation cases and general office work, succeeds Robert M. Cook, who will open general law offices in the Citizens & Southern Bank building. Mr. Cook served as assistant to former District Attorney Clint W. Hager for more than 10 years.

Mr. Hay until recently has been connected with the legal staff of the Home Owners' Land Corporation. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia, and a prominent member of the young democrats of Georgia. AS FEDERAL ATTORNEY

MOVING BIDS OPENED FOR FEDERAL OFFICES Bids for the moving of various government offices into the new postoffice building were opened Thursday by Postmaster E. K. Large, custodian for both buildings. Weathers Brothers made the low bid for moving the furniture, and the Cherry Transport Company was low bidder for moving the safes.

These bids were forwarded to Washington, and when confirmed the departments will be moved. This, Mr. Large thought, should be not later than Monday.

 ATLANTA SPOT COTTON. Atlanta spot cotton closed steady and unchanged at 12:40. Receipts, 412; shipments, 541:

NEW YORK, March 15 .- (A)-

NEW YORK, March 15.—(P)—

cotton recovered earlier losses in the late trading today, when the market met a fair volume of trade support and forenoon sellers rebought.

Moderate declines had resulted from easiness of stocks, silver and grain. July contracts rallied from 12.23 to 12.35, and closed at 12.34, with the general market closing firm, net unchanged to 4 points higher.

A little trade and commission house market a fairly steady undertone right after the call. An easier tone in other markets apparently influenced by a statement credited to the secretary of the treasury indicating that the administration would not sponsor silver legistration would not sponsor silve some hesitancy to press offerings pending definite action on cotton control legislation.

Spot houses were more active buy-legislation.

Spot houses were more active buyers of the near months and early sellers rebought, causing the market to rally to the best levels for the day. Final prices were at or within a few points of the best.

Exports today, 12,706, making 5,885,519 so far this season. Port receipts, 12,717. United State port stocks, 3,238,218.

By VICTOR EUBANK.

NEW YORK, March 15.—(P)—
While some soft spots developed in the bond market today coincident with heaviness of stocks, gains predominated at the close and a number of issues again pushed through their highs of the past two years or more.

The trading volume dwindled in the afternoon when scattered reactionary tendencies appeared and transfers finally totaled only $15.451.000, par value, compared with $19.476.000 yesterday. The eaverage for 60 domestic corporate loans advanced one-tenth of a point to $5.8, another top since 1931.

Prime investment bonds were again

Prime investment bonds were again the most popular, principal recessions being recorded in the secondary groups. The majority of United States government securities finished with gains of 1-32d to 9-32ds.

Interest was expressed in the aunouncement of the treasury that the exchange offer of 3 per cent notes for some $460,000,000 of certificates maturing today had been accepted by holders of about $455,000,000 of the issue.

Active corporate gainers of fractions to around a point included loans of Santa Fe, Consolidated Gas, Louisville & Nashville, Paramount, Pennsylvania. United States Rubber and United Drug.

Among the more pronounced losers were issues of Studebaker, Nickel Plate. Chesapeake Corporation, American Rolling Mill. American & Foreign Power and Alleghany Corporation.

The foreign section was quiet and mildly irregular.

LOUIS UNTERMEYER LECTURES TONIGHT ON TODAY'S POETRY

Louis Untermeyer, New York poet, anthologist and critic, will lecture on "The Glory of the Commonplace" at $2.30 o'clock tonight in the Bucher Scott gymnasium at Agnes Scott College. Mr. Untermeyer is appearing under the auspices of the Agnes Scott Public Lecture Association and is the fourth speaker of the series for this year.

Mr Untermeyer will outline the contemporary writers of a racy, wholly native literature, emphasizing the "poetry of everyday." His talk will be illustrated by examples taken from the works of Robert Frost and other contemporaries, including himself. As a critic Louis Untermeyer has long been noted for his curious blend of rich idealism and withering irony, and his volume of essays, entitled "Heavens," was widely acclaimed as the cleverest and most brilliant work of criticism that recent American literature has produced.

NEED OF ADVERTISING IS STRESSED BY CRAIG

So many changes have been made in industry in the past three or four years that manufacturers are forced to advertise so as to acquaint their customers, many of whom are new, with their products, many of which have been changed also, Paul Craig, field representative of the S. D. Warren Company, told the Atlanta Advertising Club at its luncheon Thursday in Rich's tea room.

Seven out of ten members of personnel have been changed, he said, which means that manufacturers must cater to new customers who were not previously acquainted with their lines.

previously acquainted with their lines.

Mr. Craig added that the various codes had corrected many bad practices, and the whole problem of distribution had been simplified. This change also made advertising more effective now than it had been for some time.

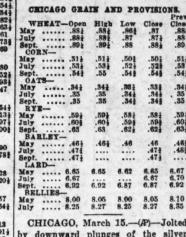

offective now than it had been for some time.

Oscar Strauss, president of the club, reminded the members of the convention of the Advertising Federation of America to be held in New York on June 17, and urged them to attend.

CONSERVATIVE DAY DRESS IN COMPANION.

Here's a darling dress for youth and youthful types for spring. It's simplicity itself to make and to wear. It echoes the smart wind-blown note in that "big" shoulder bow and front plaits that swish the hemline of the skirt.

Imagine it fascinating too in copper clay monotone crepe silk with navy blue contrast.

Apple green crepe silk in combination with printed crepe is strikingly smart.

Style No. 628 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19 years.

Size 15 requires 3 1-2 yards of 30-linch material with 3-4 yard 39-inch contrasting.

Style No. 628 is designed for sizes 11. The Features of Feather!

Says: Jolly Rogers

Brides will always be brides -bless their hearts. The other day, a Mrs. Newlywed came in and asked me for some Nucoa—and asked me did I know how to make a coconut pie.

'Course, I saw she was a little bit confused and was thinking that Nucoa was shredded coconut. But I led her along and explained that Nucoa was just about the finest 'Margarine made-and she could make fine pastry by using Nucoa.

And then, I explained that just about the best shredded coconut my wife ever tried is Dunham's.

Well, sir, that sweet young lady made life worth while for old Jolly Rogers next day when she brought me by a slice of her coconut pie—walked right in the store with it! I went back to the 'frigerator and got me a pint of Aristocrat milk-(and what fine milk!) and polished off the piece of pie.

We're just home folks in the Rogers stores—real home folks-always have been-always will be.

Respond to Food Contests

In answer to Rogers Quality Food Shops second week's contest, many hundreds of letters were received, and again the judges were hard pressed to decide the winner. However, the first prize winner was a decidedly good one.

Not only from Atlanta, but from scores of surrounding towns, women responded to this unusual contest.
Outstanding were the great number from Carrollton, Ga.

Dublin, Cornelia, Columbus, Rome and many other towns were represented, and interest continues unabated as the contests roll merrily along.

Mrs. Newed.—"Matilda, our new cook, says she puts her very heart into her cooking."

Mr. Newed.—"Then she must have been very heavyhearted when she made this cake!"

Wigg-"Flatheade is not near as big a fool as he used to be." Wagg-"Why. has he reformed?" Wigg-"No, he's dieting!"
